

GREG CUMMINGS

award-winning conservationist, storyteller and safari guide

gorillalandsafaris@gmail.com | +1 778 587 3447 | www.bluegorillagiving.ca

Greg Cummings has published in The Guardian, The Ecologist, and Sea Angler. In 2002 his organization was awarded the BBC Animal Awards' International Award for Outstanding Work in Conservation. A fundraiser since 1990, Cummings has raised money in the United States, Britain, France, the Netherlands, Italy, and Canada for causes ranging from wildlife conservation to mental health. As director of the Dian Fossey Gorilla Fund UK, he set up dozens of innovative, grassroots projects in troubled parts of the world—many of which are self-sustaining to this day. Raised on four continents, Greg has a unique global perspective, which has given him an eye for where the next crisis might arise and how to thwart it. (see www.bluegorillagiving.ca)

ARTICLES

- 'For a Lifelong Homeless Traveler, Music Marks the Place' Perspective Travel, Dec 2023
- 'Malindi, Kenya: Worth the Slog' GO Nomad, Nov 2022
- 'Billfish Fever in Malindi' Sea Angler, Feb 2018
- 'Johnny Oceans: Lie or Legend?' The Flamingo Sun, Sep 2013
- 'Conservation in the Mountains of Uganda' The Ecologist, Dec 2012
- 'Trekking with gorillas in central Africa' The Guardian, Nov 2012

BOOKS

- Gorilla Tactics (Chicago Review Press, 2024)
- Pirates (Cutting Edge Press, 2014)
- Gorillaland (Cutting Edge Press, 2012)

BLOGS & WEBSITES

- Blue Gorilla Giving
- Tales From the Rift
- Pirate Yarns

PHOTOGRAPHS

- Portfolio

Greg Cummings is represented by Linda Langton, Langtons International Agency, 40 Central Park S, New York, NY 10019; (646) 344-1801; langtonsinternational@gmail.com